

Psalms 136

EclipseCrossword.com

Across

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4. A region East of the Jordan River. (Psalms 136:20) 6. An expression of gratitude. (Psalms 136:01) 9. Men with supreme authority over nations. (Psalms 136:17) 10. Whatever is taken in for nourishment. (Psalms 136:25) 15. Recollected; kept in mind. (Psalms 136:23) 16. Very powerful. (Psalms 136:12) 19. An estate that passes from ancestor to heir. (Psalms 136:22) 22. Created; built; formed. (Psalms 136:07) 23. Inflicted a heavy blow. (Psalms 136:10) 24. Delivered from bondage. (Psalms 136:24) 25. David did this to Goliath. (Psalms 136:18) | 3. Defeated; conquered; destroyed. (Psalms 136:15) 4. To make something or someone to come up. (Psalms 136:11) 5. Parted; disunited; distributed. (Psalms 136:13) 7. Drawn out in length; exerted to the utmost. (Psalms 136:06) 8. Marvelous miracles. (Psalms 136:04) 11. One of the Canaanitish tribe. (Psalms 136:19) 12. The abode of God. (Psalms 136:26) 13. Tenderness of heart that forgives trespasses. (Psalms 136:02) 14. Guided or showed the way. (Psalms 136:16) 17. (Luke 11:31) The queen of the south came to hear Solomons'. (Psalms 136:05) 18. To move on or ahead; proceed. (Psalms 136:14) |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Down

- | | |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. The moon shines the brightest at this time of day. (Psalms 136:09) 2. A 24 hour period. (Psalms 136:08) | 20. Transferred possession of. (Psalms 136:21) 21. The divine master and owner of all. (Psalms 136:03) |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|